

Beaumaris Books
Proudly presents an evening with
DERRYN HINCH

To coincide with the release of his new book
A Human Deadline

When: Tuesday 4th December, 7.30pm

Where: MALT CAFÉ,
23-25 South Concourse Beaumaris

Cost: $30.00 includes admission & finger food.
Beverages at bar prices.

Phone: 9589 4638

E-mail: read@beaumarisbooks.com.au

Bookings Essential

Derryn Hinch has been described as “an opinionated and often provocative journalist...an unapologetic crusader...often controversial, but never boring”.

He has been a foreign correspondent, newspaper editor, and an award-winning current affairs TV host with HINCH. Until ‘sacked’ in 2012, he hosted for 10 years 3AW’s award-winning Drive program. He has written 13 books, appeared on stage as the narrator in The Rocky Horror Show, been on TV in Dancing with the Stars, Beauty and the Beast, and hosted The Midday Show. He’s played himself in TV’s Underbelly and on film in The Wog Boy. A musical, for which he wrote the book and the lyrics, iFantasia, opens in 2013.

In 2010 Hinch celebrated 50 years in the media, with the release of the insightful memoir, Human Headlines. In late 2012 Hinch joined the Seven Network as national public affairs commentator, working across Sunday Night, Seven News and Sunrise.

The title of his new book sums it up: A Human Deadline-a story of life, death, hope and house arrest. Controversial as ever, the Human Headline writes about life, health, the courts, the public, the organ donor debate and much more, with brutal honesty.

- Did Hinch jump the queue
- Did a former drinker deserve a liver transplant?
- What’s your bucket list with 12 months to live?
- How did Hinch discover his donor’s secret?
- How does an atheist face death?